FORTY BOY SCOUTS AND CADETS AID IN SEARCH FOR LOST CHILD

Winston Johnstone, 4-Year-Old, Lost Since Yesterday, Not Yet Found

MOUNTED AND CITY POLICE SENT OUT.

Child Believed to be Somewhere on Hudson's Bay Reserve.

Lost since four o'clock yesterday afternoon, Winston Johnstone, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Johnstone, who reside on the corner of Third street and Alberta avenue, had not been found at the time of going to press, despite the earnest search which was conducted in a large party which was formed as soon as the loss was made known. The little fellow is believed to have strayed into the dense brush which covers the Hudson's Bay Reserve. A party of thirty or more neighbors was gathered yesterday afternoon. The police, mounted and city, and four mounted inspectors of the R.N.W.M.P. sent two of his men, and the mounted police were out early this morning. Men from both forces are out today.

Boat Found.

This morning Inspector Worley, the man in the office of the police, the party by which a boat, a troupe of boy scouts, he communicated at noon, the Arctic Grange, and as a result, four boats from the city, together with a number of the scouts, were sent out to search the brush.

It is hoped that with their assistance the grange will be so thoroughly covered that the boy who has strayed away will be found and returned to his parents.

Boys' Night in Brush.

Great anxiety is felt by the parents of the little fellow, who is in the brush, must necessarily have been without food for twenty-four hours. It is generally supposed that he is lost on the reserve, the brush having been adopted by the Hudson's Bay Company, the St. Albert, and, has perhaps been taken up by some animal, or has been captured by to ascertain the whereabouts of the child. When last seen the boy was wearing a blue velvet cap and a spotted blue blanket.

DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE IS PREPARING EXHIBIT

J. L. Poole, Publishing Agent, Secretary, Sample of Grade for Estimation at Toronto, Chicago, Detroit and Spokane Fair This Year.

Samples of grain for exhibition at the fairs of Toronto, Chicago, Detroit, Spokane and other cities are now being gathered together in the board of trade rooms by J. L. Poole, publishing agent of the Alberta Development League. Mr. Poole has gathered many bushels of wheat, and has sent samples to each of the fairs in Edmonton and throughout Central Alberta.

A sample of barley, weighing 48 pounds to the bushel, which was grown by Fred Underwood, of the Alberta Development League, has been received. Samples of barley and wheat have been sent to the Manitoba, Manitoba, and the grain from the farm of Mr. Bryan, of Alberta, and the grain from the farm of Mr. Hendry, East Cleverton, Cleverton, and from Mr. McGehee, Cleverton, and Mr. Williams, Sault Ste. Marie, samples of wheat and barley forwarded to the source of trade of Mr. Dey, of Sault Ste. Marie.

Mr. Poole prepared the exhibit of grain for the New Westminster fair at 48 pounds to the bushel, and the same last fall. Mr. Poole thinks that he will have even better exhibits this year.

After a number of long drives through the Edmonton district, Mr. Poole has decided to make a good prospect for a good crop better than this year.

The country would do very well with another good shower or two of rain. Conditions are most favorable, and it is to be hoped that we may hope to put up the best exhibits ever shown from the Canadian West."

C.N.R. Crop Report.

Winnipeg, Man., June 13.—The Canadian National crop report for the week shows grain to be doing well in all localities. Conditions still favor the production of a fine crop.

Vancouver Business Men Urge B. C. Government
To Build Railway to Peace River Country.

The resolution adopted points out the agricultural advantages of the northern interior and that the exports of agricultural produce have tripled in value during the past fifteen years, while the value of all which should be raised by the own soil. It adds that the climate and other advantages of the country are such as to induce rail and settlement and that in the Peace River region of British Columbia there has been discovered some of the most valuable coal deposits in the world.

Secret Alliance Against Reciprocity Agreement

American Trusts and Canadian Corporate Interests Seek to Defeat Agreement by Any Foul Means at Hand—People Are For It.

Ottawa, June 14.—That the reciprocity agreement will be adopted by the United States senate is now reasonably certain. It has passed the senate committee, and while the amendment of Mr. Root has been adopted by the house, it is not expected to be voted on before the bill is held up.

Some of the leaders of the Anti-reciprocity party have been in the Canadian position, even if, when doubt is cast, it is permitted to read into the Canadian position.

EDMONTON, JUNE 14, 1911.

THE "HOLD-UP ENGLAND"

Those of his newspaper friends who are urging Mr. Borden to demand a friendship for the British preference in hope of gaining sympathy for his tariff policy, are asking him to invite the editor to either commit himself to a course of disillusive deception or to throw overboard all the principles which have demented the party's trade policy since it had a trade policy.

In reference to British trade, and to the article on the subject of development, the standing maxim of the Opposition, standing for twenty years has been to coerce England into giving her the food supplies. That was the purpose of the resolution passed by Parliament in 1892 at the instance of the then government, and it is the principle maintained by the party in reference to British trade and to the Canadian tariff on British goods from that day to this.

This was the stand upon which the party Mr. Borden leads fought the giving of the preference in 1897 and the subsequent fight for the home market. That was the purpose of the resolution passed by Parliament in 1902 at the instance of the then government, and it is the principle maintained by the party in reference to British trade and to the Canadian tariff on British goods from that day to this.

The West Indies is said to be on the tape. This would hardly be a vigorously maintained position with the United States. The products of the West Indies are not such as are turned out of the factories of the United States, and it is the principle against tariff reduction generally, and many of these gentlemen have been putting money in recent years into the West Indies, and the West Indies are not long as the net proceeds were satisfactory.

A reciprocity agreement with the West Indies is said to be on the tape. This would hardly be a vigorously maintained position with the United States. The products of the West Indies are not such as are turned out of the factories of the United States, and it is the principle against tariff reduction generally, and many of these gentlemen have been putting money in recent years into the West Indies, and the West Indies are not long as the net proceeds were satisfactory.

From Vancouver comes the proposal that the same amount of Washington shipping rough lumber at cost or slightly above cost into the prairie market and taking away the lumber of the B.C. market.

We have therefore a reversal of the demand for a tariff on rough lumber.

This was the stand upon which the party Mr. Borden leads fought the giving of the preference in 1897 and the subsequent fight for the home market. That was the purpose of the resolution passed by Parliament in 1897 at the instance of the then government, and it is the principle maintained by the party in reference to British trade and to the Canadian tariff on British goods from that day to this.

The fighting is not yet over in Mexico. The dead, killed in the last battle, were all the men of the regulars, and his allies, thus leaving away an opportunity to hold the British people, and to tell them that unless they taxed their imports, they would give them no tariff concessions other than we gave the foreigners. In this matter business was bound to be held up, and it was allowed to interfere; we should deal with the people of the Old Lands as though they were strangers, and expect favor and protection, nothing more. That was what Mr. Borden and his friends did, and it is the principle maintained by the party Mr. Borden leads, that is to stand upon his fight against reciprocity. If so it will hardly be in a conspicuous place until the western tour is over.

A directory firm brings Vancouver population to be 166,000. Perhaps it is not quite like the census enumerators, at so much per head.

LET THEM ALL COME.

Resting Standard: A Minneapolis business man says he has solved the mystery of the preference movement. James J. Hill and the steel trust, he says, are behind the treaty and as soon as it is passed the Hill will be in the lead. The steel trust, he says, will be the leading party in Canada and the high-tariff party in Canada. And the circumstances of the steel trust are such that it has been to proclaim the out-working of the preference as a successful method of dealing with the steel trust. Upon no less admissions would it be possible for him to adduce absolutely the principle and his associates that the steel trust had been behind the twenty years and to take up the cause against which they directed the whole power of their party in the name of the steel trust and of the steel trust.

But to shun the policy of encroaching from a foot-dash would destroy the sword and accord the steel trust a victory. The steel trust, he says, will be the leading party in Canada and the high-tariff party in Canada. And the circumstances of the steel trust are such that it has been to proclaim the out-working of the preference as a successful method of dealing with the steel trust. Upon no less admissions would it be possible for him to adduce absolutely the principle and his associates that the steel trust had been behind the twenty years and to take up the cause against which they directed the whole power of their party in the name of the steel trust and of the steel trust.

Resting Standard: Mr. Borden has always stood opposed to giving Canada anything in the way of tariff concession unless England is prepared to do the same. He has no right to do this, for the day that full reciprocity is not far distant.

By all means let us have the railway, but let us have them with the west. The west is wide enough for all the lines the railway builders will throw across their prairies, and there is no middle line. The west is wide enough for all the lines the railway builders will throw across their prairies, and there is no middle line.

The reciprocity treaty will have to be revised, and the steel trust will have to be revised, and the day that full reciprocity is not far distant.

A larger and popular audience in the west will be the result of the board of trade and declared and proved of reciprocity. A board of trade at least expresses only the opinion of the people in a community who are engaged in the processes of manufacture and exchange, and of these only a small number are engaged for the purpose of promoting their own special interests or those of the community, as the case may be. Considering the composition of western boards of trade the matter of reciprocity is not that one or two voted against reciprocity but that no more than the larger western cities the eastern gentlemen who are proposing reciprocity have represented the natural business interests of the boards of trade, and who also naturally have a thought as to the interests of number one, and the interests of number two, and the like, in the reciprocity debate.

Having in mind the fact that reciprocity with the United States was a policy which the party did not want to step forward, but a policy which seemed to be approved even in the earlier ages of government, it is hard to say what had what might be termed responsible government; having that in view he must confess that when the reciprocity agreement was made with the United States it is hard to say what had been done in this arrangement to give one eastern manufacturer a dozen votes in as many western cities. The result of this arrangement is to give one eastern manufacturer a dozen votes in as many western cities. The result of this arrangement is to give one eastern manufacturer a dozen votes in as many western cities. The result of this arrangement is to give one eastern manufacturer a dozen votes in as many western cities.

The point about the agreement which appealed to him was that it provided another market for the farmers, and that it relieved the other producers of steelstuff throughout the whole Dominion. The great question was that affecting steelstuff, eventually the northern part of the country, and the settled parts, particularly to Saskatchewan, would be the largest producer of food for the whole of the continent, to the west of the mountains, to the rest of the world. The United States was rapidly ceasing to be an exporting country. It would become less and less so for the food stuffs concerned.

Eventually the United States would have to come to Canada for food stuffs and give them a little more than what was going to be given to us.

There was only one thing to be done. If a thing was right they must go straight on in the direction into which they were going, and not into policy, or anything else. He believed the west required the proposed changes. If it was good for the east, it was good for the whole of the Dominion, and he was convinced that it would be bad for the whole Dominion, why should they do it.

He believed the west required the proposed changes. If it was good for the east, it was good for the whole of the Dominion, and he was convinced that it would be bad for the whole Dominion, why should they do it.

There was only one thing to be done. If a thing was right they must go straight on in the direction into which they were going, and not into policy, or anything else. He believed the west required the proposed changes. If it was good for the east, it was good for the whole of the Dominion, and he was convinced that it would be bad for the whole Dominion, why should they do it.
